

May 11, 2022 Mazda Motor Corporation

Akira Marumoto Representative Director and President Code No. 7261 TSE Prime

Contact: Nobuhiko Kageyama General Manager, Accounting Department,

Financial Services Division Phone: 082-282-1111

Notice of Revision of Dividend Forecast (Dividend Increase)

In light of the recent trends in our business performance, Mazda Motor Corporation hereby revises the year-end dividend forecast for the Fiscal Year Ended March 31, 2022, as shown below. The prior forecast was announced on May 14, 2021.

1. Revision of Dividend Forecast

	Dividends per Share
	2nd.Qtr.	Year-End	Full Year
	yen	yen	yen
Previous Forecast	0.00	15.00	15.00
Revised Forecast		20.00	20.00
Actual Results	0.00
(Ref.) Fiscal Year Ended Mar. 31, 2021	0.00	0.00	0.00

2. Reason for the Revision

Mazda's policy regarding the stock dividend is to determine the amount of dividend payments, taking into account current fiscal year's financial results, business environment, and financial condition, etc. As a result of comprehensively considering the upward revision of the full-year consolidated financial forecast announced today and the improvement of financial conditions, etc., we revised the year-end dividend forecast for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2022 from previous forecast of ¥15 to ¥20 per share, ¥5 increase from previous forecast.

This matter is scheduled to be officially decided upon by resolutions of the 156th Ordinary General Meeting of Shareholders to be held in June 2022.

Forecast in this disclosure is based on information currently available to Mazda Motor Corporation. Actual dividend may differ from that forecast here depending on various factors that arise in the future.